

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

Sylvie BURIANOVA is a Ph.D. student of European Studies at Faculty of Social Studies at Masaryk University in Brno, the Czech Republic. Her research interest is focused on the external migration policy of the EU.

Cristina MATIUȚA is Associate Professor at the University of Oradea, Department of Political Science and Communication. She teaches in the areas of Civil Society, Political Parties and Theory and practice of democracy. She is Jean Monnet professor in the field of Active Citizenship, Identity and Democratic Governance in the European Union. E-mail: cmatiuta@uoradea.ro

Anh Tuan NGUYEN is graduate student at Thai Studies Center, Chulalongkorn University, Thailand. Email: Nguyentuananh.iseas@gmail.com

Lia POP is university professor at the Department of Political Sciences and Communication, University of Oradea. She is the Director of the Editorial Board of the Journal of Identity and Migration Studies (JIMS) and the founder of the Research Center for Identity and Migration Issues (RCIMI).

Ciprian N. RADAVOI is Assistant Professor of Law at Dalian Maritime University, Dalian, China, former diplomat and human rights lawyer. He has a MA degree from Lund University in Sweden (2008), with a thesis in international migration and a PhD from University of International Business and Economics, Beijing, China (2014).

Marta SZCZEPANIK is PhD student at the Graduate School for Social Research within the Polish Academy of Sciences.

Marius Ioan TĂȚAR, PhD, is Lecturer in Political Science at the University of Oradea, Department of Political Science and Communication. Between 2015-2016 he was Postdoctoral Research Fellow at the University of Lausanne, Switzerland. His main research areas include political participation and democratization in Central and Eastern Europe. Contact: Str. Traian Blajovici nr. 2 Oradea, 410238, Romania, E-mail: mtatar@uoradea.ro.

MeltemInce YENILMEZ is Associate Professor of Labour Economics and Gender Mainstreaming at Yasar University, Izmir, Turkey. She completed her undergraduate study in Business Administration in 2001 at Eastern Mediterranean University, North Cyprus. She received her M.A. in Banking and Finance in 2003 from the same university. She started her Ph.D. in Economics in 2003 in Eastern Mediterranean University and after completed her lectures in 2006, higher education was transferred to AfyonKocatepe University. She obtained her Ph.D. degree in Economics in 2010. Before completing her doctorate, in 2008, she joined the academic staff of Economics Department as a Lecturer at Yasar University, Turkey. From 2008 to 2011, she was full time Lecturer at department of Economics. She became Assistant Professor in April, 2011 and obtained her Associate Professorship in March, 2014. She was Visiting Professor at Department of Sociology at University of Cambridge, Cambridge, UK from September 2011 to July 2012 and Visiting Scholar at University of California at Berkeley from September 2014 to August 2016. She is currently Visiting Professor at Georg-August-Universitat Gottingen, Germany since July 1, 2016 for her research project.