

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

Ioana Albu, PhD, is a senior lecturer (with tenure), at the University of Oradea, Romania, Department of Political Science and Communication Sciences. E-mail: ialbu@uoradea.ro.

Henrik Eriksson, (RN, PhD) Professor in Nursing Science at The Swedish Red Cross University College and Visiting Professor at University West, Trollhättan, Sweden. Areas of research concern self-government of health in digital recourses and advancement of nursing knowledge trough postmodern understandings. Contact: henrik.eriksson@rkh.se.

Vasilis Gavalas is an Assistant Professor who is working at the Geography department at University of Aegean. He has vast expertise in Historical Demography, Population Projections and Back Projections, Island Demography, and Population Dynamics. He studied History and Social Anthropology at the Democritus University of Thrace and continued his studies at a post-graduate level in the UK. He holds an Msc in Demography and a Ph.D. in the same field from the London School of Economics and Political Science. He has worked as a Research Associate for the Cathie Marsh Centre for Census and Survey Research (CCSR) at the University of Manchester. During his term as a research associate at CCSR he was engaged in demographic projects entailing population projections and analysis of the population dynamics for Districts of Northern England. He was also involved in consultancy work for the “Department for Work and Pensions” concerning ethnic minority populations and the labour market in Britain. Contact: bgav@geo.aegean.gr.

Ann Hägg-Martinell is Senior Lecture (RN, PhD) at the Department of Health Sciences, The Swedish Red Cross University College. Contact: ann.hagg.martinell@rkh.se.

Maria Lagou received her Bachelor’s degree in Environmental Sciences from the University of the Aegean, Greece, in 2016. Also She has a BSc as Technical Engineer and Master of Integrated Coastal Zone Management. Now she is PhD student at Marine Sciences Department of University of the Aegean. She worked as engineer at Municipality of Lesvos in 2012. Since March 2018, she has been responsible for the dissemination activities of the SCIREA project at the University of the Aegean. Since October 2018 she is working at recycling office of Municipality of Lesvos as environmentalist. Contact: mard16016@marine.aegean.gr.

Emma Lucier-Keller earned her B.A. at Ramapo College of New Jersey. She graduated with a double major in History and American Studies and double minor in Museum Studies and Women & Gender Studies. Interests of study include immigration, preservation, and international adoption history through the intersectional lens of race and gender. As an international adoptee, Emma looks forward to contributing to the ever widening historical narrative through continuing her studies at the University of Maryland's Historic Preservation Masters program in Fall of 2021. Contact: elucierkeller@outlook.com.

Cristina Matiuta, PhD, is Associate Professor at the University of Oradea, Romania, Department of Political Science and Communication. She teaches in the areas of Civil Society, Political Parties and Theory and practice of democracy. She is Jean Monnet professor in the field of European integration studies. Contact: cmatiuta@uoradea.ro.

Ergün Özgür, PhD, is an Einstein Guest Researcher at Freie Universität Berlin. She had post-doctoral fellowships at ZMO - Berlin (2017- 2020), Käte Hamburger Kolleg - Bonn (2015 - 2016) and UCL, ISPOLE (2015 - 2016). She worked as an Asst. Professor at Cyprus International University, Nicosia (2012 - 2015). Dr. Özgür has a Ph.D. from Organizational Behaviour (Marmara University, Istanbul). She has two master's degrees on Global Politics and International Relations (Bahçeşehir University, Istanbul), and Banking (MU, Istanbul), and BA degree on Public Administration & Political Science (METU, Ankara). Her research interests are culture, migration, refugees, ethnicity, identity, policies, values. Contact: erguen.oezguer@fu-berlin.de.

Enrico Di Pasquale is researcher at the Leone Moressa Foundation. His research area is focused on the impact of regular immigrants on the economy. Contact: dipasquale@fondazioneleonemoressa.org.

Elektra Petrakou is tenured Assistant Professor in Political Geography, the Department of Geography of the University of the Aegean. Her teaching experience, research work and interests focus on populations' movements, asylum and migration issues, global, European and national policies on borders and migration, decision making on social, political and international issues. She is a co-director of the Laboratory of Movements on Borders in the Department of Geography of the University of the Aegean. She has participated and coordinated projects on migration, asylum and refugee issues particular in the Aegean islands and in general in Greece funded by Greek authorities and currently she is a national coordinator in the Respond: Multilevel Governance of Mass Migration in Europe and Beyond funded by the European Commission Horizon 2020 Programme. Contact: jpetr@geo.aegean.gr.

Joel Platt holds an LLB (First Class Honours) and LLM (Distinction) from Durham University and is currently reading for an MSc in Criminology and Criminal Justice at Keble College, University of Oxford. Contact: joelplatt7@gmail.com.

Ilias Siarkos is Postdoc in Geography department, University of the Aegean, Since March 2018, he is responsible for the training activities of the SCIREA project at the University of the Aegean. Contact: isiarkos@aegean.gr.

Çağla Ünlütürk-Ulutaş is an associate professor at the University of Pamukkale. She earned her undergraduate and graduate degrees from Ankara University. She conducts interdisciplinary research focusing on gender, migration, and social policy. Contact: caglau@gmail.com.

Ourlana Tzoraki is Associate Professor, University of the Aegean. She environmental research, (co-) authored more than 100 publications in international journals, books and conference proceedings and participated in the development of innovative modelling tools to facilitate environmental management. She has organised the international summer schools for open access geographical systems training (funded by UNESCO-2015) and risk floods (funded by the DAAD-2017). She participates in several EU-funded projects and currently is the coordinator of the horizon 2020 project- Science for Refugee Scientists in Aegean Archipelago and partner in BRIDGEII horizon project. Contact: rania.tzoraki@aegean.gr.